The Ferret-Joy

Cool Stats:

What are some things that you have heard about ferrets? Ferrets are born deaf! They are unable to hear until they are about 5 weeks old. A ferret lives 9 to 10 years. There are 8 million domestic ferrets in the US.

Fun Facts:

Ferrets can be trained to use a litter box.

Ferrets love people. A female is called a jill; a male is called a hobo.

Ferrets have been domesticated about 500 years longer than house cats have.

Animal Connection:

Ferrets are known for their funny tricks. When a ferret plays, it often does what is called a “dance of joy.” the ferret flogs, hops, bounces, rolls and scoots as if it is so joyful it has to dance.

Fruit of the Spirit Connection:

Psalm 28:7 tells us ways to express our joy at all God has given us. We have many reasons to be joyful: God loves us. Because he does, we can be forgiven of our sin and someday live in heaven with him! One day we will be able to worship God forever— singing, jumping, and dancing in joy! Remember all of the good things God has done for you. It might make you so joyful that you hop, bounce, roll and scoot like a ferret. This week— live in JOY!

The Lord is my strength and my shield; my heart trusts in him, and I am helped. My heart leaps for joy and I will give thanks to him in song.”
