

Number 1

There is only one:

Planet Earth

Pacific Ocean

Faith, Lord, Baptism- and Jesus is his name!

Here is how you say one in other languages:

Uno- Spanish

Un- French

Ein- Germa

n

En-Norwegian

Uno-Italian

Aon-Irish

Mono can mean that there is only one of something. A monocle is an eyeglass with only one lens, and a monorail is a railway track with only one rail.

A mobus strip has one edge and one surface. It's easy to make by taking a long strip of paper, giving it one twist, and joining together the ends. Ask a friend to color one side of the strep red and the other side green. It's impossible because the strip only has one side.

One is the only positive whole number that you can add to 1,000,000 and you get an answer that's bigger than if you multiply it by 1,000,000.

One Lord, One Faith, One Baptism- Ephesians 4:5 (King James Version)